

Shape poems

LO to write a calligram or shape poem

Joshua's Bike

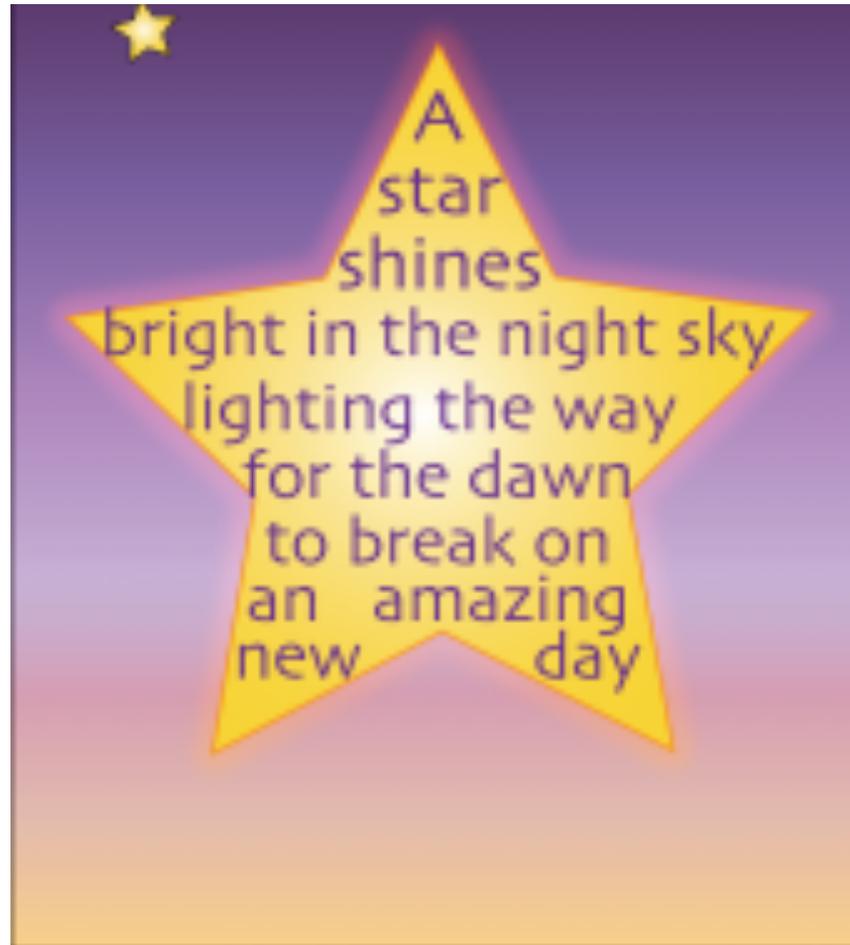

raindrop

A
drop
of rain is like a sudden
knock at the door.
Unexpected, yet often welcomed with a smile. It can brighten your day or ruin your plans. It can make you laugh or make you sad. Whether the raindrop is moving fast or slow, or is big or small, it always gets everyone's attention. A raindrop contains many secrets. It is a bubble of anticipation and surprise. It cleanses the earth, it feeds the flowers, and fills the holes. The raindrop is never silent. It bangs on the roof, spatters on the window, or splashes into a puddle.
A raindrop.

Ice-cream

Star

THE KITE

I
fly
so high
in the sky.
Brightly dyed
I soar and glide...
The wind is my guide.
As I flutter and slide.
I entertain and enthrall
When I face a squall!
Although I'm small
I'm visible to all Ecstatically
everybody
can see me!!

I scan the beautiful skyline

I dance in the warm sunshine

Yet, freedom can never be mine

I'm

restricted - by a mere twine.....

By:
Anuradha Rao
India
Age: 16 years

Air Guitar Star

I play the loudest air guitar

Jam it up!
Make it strum!
Watch me solo!
Hear it hum!

POWER CHORD
Rocking, rolling super star

whining

wailing

reeling

squealing

Pluck
Pick
Electric
Pluck
Pick Electric

don't fret
don't
fret
don't
fret
don't
fret
don't
fret

Turn it up!

Turn it down!

ROCK YOUR PARENTS

Rock the town

Rabbits

My Hand

my hand reaches for you

your hand takes

you climb my hand
holds you tightly

le below my hand waves goodbye
to the people

you to the top my hand waves
hand my hand waves

you climb the hill

Ghosts

Ghosts

glide across the golden grass gathering
goblins and grabbing grasshoppers.

They giggle as they glide
above
the ground.