

Dear Parents,

We would like to thank you for all your hard work during these difficult times, we understand it has been a struggle. To try to keep some momentum with the children's reading we will send out a link for your child's reading book for the week, please continue to follow your child's reading colour and click on the link next to it. Once you have read the book please complete the activities which are highlighted above the book, this will aid you in assessing your child's comprehension. We know some of you may have had these books already, but as normal we ask you read the book more than once to help your child become fluent in their reading.

Thank you.

Activities to do once you have read your book:

- Make flashcards of any words which your child found a bit tricky and practise these daily, you may want to stick these around your home.
- Hold a story night, where your child will be centre stage to read the story to the family, maybe other family members would like to read one too, (you may want to make tickets for the special night and snacks too).
- Remake the book with your own pictures and own sentences.
- Act out the story with family members, really get into character by dressing up too!
