

WALT predict
what happens
next.

I know what a prediction is.
I can recall the story.
I can guess what will happen
next.

Who remembers this story?

What happens in the story?

Write your ideas on a whiteboard.

Today we are going to predict what happens next.

First we will remind ourselves of the ending!

If we are predicting something, we are having a guess.

What do you think will happen once the toys are all back in their place?

WALT predict what happens after the story has ended.
